Press release

28.03.2022

Karin Lepasoon leaves Vattenfall

Senior Vice President and Head of Group Communications at Vattenfall, Karin Lepasoon, has decided to leave Vattenfall and will assume the position as ABB's Chief Communications and Sustainability Officer, based at the global headquarters in Zürich.

Karin worked at Vattenfall during 2016-2020 and then returned in October 2021. During these years she has been in the lead of defining and engaging Vattenfall's employees and customers in the new strategic positioning of the Vattenfall brand.

"I have enjoyed working with Karin and I'm sorry to see her leave this soon, but I wish her all the best in her coming position", says Anna Borg, President and CEO, Vattenfall.

"It was a tough decision to leave Vattenfall. In particular leaving all my wonderful colleagues who I sincerely enjoy working with. Vattenfall is on a journey towards making fossil free living possible within one generation. I will continue to follow Vattenfall's progress towards this critical goal", says Karin Lepasoon.

Karin Lepasoon will leave Vattenfall at the latest in September 2022. A recruitment process for a successor will start immediately.

For further information, please contact:
Vattenfall's Press Office, telephone: +46 (0)8 739 50 10, email: press@vattenfall.com

Vattenfall is a leading European energy company, which for more than 100 years has electrified industries, supplied energy to people's homes and modernised our way of living through innovation and cooperation. We now want to make fossil-free living possible within one generation. That's why we are driving the transition to a sustainable energy system through initiatives in renewable production and climate smart energy solutions for our customers. We employ approximately 20,000 people and have operations mainly in Sweden, Germany, the Netherlands, Denmark and the UK. Vattenfall is owned by the Swedish state. For more information: group.vattenfall.com

Confidentiality: C2 - Internal