SUMMARY DOCUMENT

Background

This is a summary document (the “Summary Document”) prepared and published pursuant to Chapter 2, Section 7 of the Swedish Financial Instruments Trading Act (Sw. Lag (1991:980) om handel med finansiella instrument) (the “Swedish Trading Act”) and Article 4(2)(h) of Directive 2003/71/EC (as amended, including by Directive 2010/73/EU) (the “Prospectus Directive”) in connection with the dual listing of certain outstanding subordinated capital securities (the “Capital Securities”) issued by Vattenfall AB (publ), Reg. No. 556036-2138, (the “Issuer” or “Vattenfall”). The Capital Securities have already been listed and admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange and have been so listed and admitted to trading for more than 18 months. The Issuer will also apply for the Capital Securities to be listed and admitted to trading on Nasdaq Stockholm. The dual listing on Nasdaq Stockholm will not affect the current listing on the London Stock Exchange. A complete list of the Capital Securities is set out in Appendix 1.

Two stand-alone prospectuses have been drawn up and approved by the Financial Conduct Authority in the United Kingdom with respect to the Capital Securities, which are dated 17 March 2015 and 17 November 2015, respectively, (the “Prospectuses”). Each of the Capital Securities is subject to one of such Prospectuses, as further set out in Appendix 1.

This Summary Document does not constitute a prospectus or comprise a base prospectus for the purposes of Article 5.3 or Article 5.4, respectively, of the Prospectus Directive.

This Summary Document is not a recommendation to subscribe for or to acquire Capital Securities and does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer, or an invitation by or on behalf of the Issuer to subscribe for, or purchase, any Capital Securities. Any recipients of this Summary Document must make their own assessment of the Issuer and the Capital Securities based on the relevant Prospectus (including any supplements and the documents which have been incorporated in, and form part of, such Prospectus) and the documents available.

Restrictions

The distribution of this Summary Document in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law, and therefore persons into whose possession this Summary Document comes should inform themselves of and observe any such restrictions. Any failure to comply with such restrictions may result in a violation of applicable securities regulations. The Capital Securities have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”) or any U.S. State securities laws and may not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the account or the benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act) unless an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act is available and in accordance with all applicable securities laws of any state of the United States and any other jurisdiction.

Section D – Risks

D.2	Main risks associated with the issuer	There is a wide range of factors which individually or together could result in the Issuer becoming unable to make all payments due. It is not possible to identify all such factors or to determine which factors are most likely to occur, as the Issuer may not be aware of all relevant factors and certain factors which it currently deems not to be material may become material as a result of the occurrence of events outside the Issuer’s control. The risk factors below are not exhaustive and are not listed in any particular order. Financial risks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Electricity price risk: Electricity price risk refers to the risk of fluctuations in electricity prices. The Group is exposed to an electricity price risk, both in its electricity generation activities and in its sales activities. • Fuel and CO² emission allowances price risk: Fuel price risk relates to the fluctuations in the prices for electricity generation fuel (such as coal, gas and uranium) on the various commodity markets. The fuel price is determined by several factors, including supply and demand. The Group is also exposed to prices for CO² emission allowances. The Group’s operating profits are partly dependent on the fuel price and the price of CO² emission allowances. • Volume risk: Volume risk relates to the risk for deviations between anticipated and actual delivered volume. Fluctuations in electricity generation volumes arise for example in hydro power, in which the volumes generated depend on e.g. precipitation and snowmelt. Volume risk also arises in sales activities as deviations in anticipated versus actual volumes delivered to customers. • Credit risk: Credit risk refers to the risk of loss due to non-delivery or partial delivery by a counterparty of the agreed considerations for services rendered and/or a counterparty’s total or partial failure to make payments owing on existing accounts receivable. Credit risk arises in all parts of the Group’s operations.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Liquidity risk: Market liquidity risk refers to the risk of not being able to pursue the price hedging strategy, for example, due to insufficient liquidity in the electricity and fuel markets. Liquidity risk also pertains to the risk of the Group not being able to finance its capital needs or that these needs cannot be financed on terms acceptable to the Group. • Interest rate risk: Interest rate risk refers to the risk that changes in market interest rates will have an adverse impact on the Group's net interest items. Interest rate risk arises where the Group has invested in interest-bearing assets, the value of which change when the interest rate changes, and where the cost of the Group's borrowings fluctuates when the general market interest rate changes. The Group's interest rate risk arises mainly from its borrowings and the Group quantifies the interest rate risk in its debt portfolio in terms of duration, which describes the average term of fixed interest rates. • Currency risk: Currency risk is the risk that currency exchange rate fluctuations will have an adverse effect on the Group's cash flow, income statement or balance sheet. The Group is exposed to currency risk when sales and purchases are conducted in different currencies which affect future cash flows (transaction exposure) and in the revaluation of net assets in foreign subsidiaries (translation or balance sheet exposure), with the Group's largest exposure being EUR. Operational risks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Operational asset risk: The Group's largest operational asset risks are associated with the operation of power generation and heat production plants. Nuclear power safety and dam safety are also areas entailing operational asset risks. Risks associated with operational assets concern not only electricity generation but also damage to machinery and damage to distribution networks. • Security risks: As part of the Group's business, the Group deals with various technologies (including with respect to energy production and distribution) but also sensitive personnel and client information. Hence, the Group is exposed to the risk of data loss, leak of sensitive information and disruptions in the IT-systems, due to e.g. inadequate software and/or hardware, malware attacks or fraud. • Supplier risk: The Group's business is dependent on deliveries from third parties in accordance with agreed requirements relating to, for example, quantity, quality and delivery times. Supplier risk is the risk of delays of, or interruptions in, delivery by suppliers, deficiencies in codes of conduct for suppliers or other defaults by suppliers, and could result in disruptions in the Group's operations. • Personnel risk: There are risks involved in certain aspects of work in the energy sector for the Group's personnel. For example certain of the Group's employees are working with dangerous machinery and equipment, which require the production sites to maintain a high level of safety procedures. • Legal risk: The Group operates in various jurisdictions with different business requirements and laws. The Group is thereby exposed to legal risks across a wide area, including risks of

		litigation, fines and claims, governance and compliance related issues as well as risks related to contracts and permits. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tax risk: The Group operates in a number of countries and is exposed to the risk that its interpretation of applicable tax laws, treaties, regulations and administrative practices is inaccurate or that tax legislation or practices may change, potentially with retroactive effect. • Strategic risk: The Group is exposed to a range of different factors affecting the energy sector that are difficult to influence, including the risk for changes in political policies, public opinion, regulations and choice of technology, which may affect the Group's operations and financial performance. As an example, a continued technological development in the supply chain for wind power is a precondition for continued cost reductions in the industry. There are also risks related to the environment where the Group's operations may have an impact, for example connected to the final repository for spent nuclear fuel. • Political risk: The energy sector is highly regulated which requires the Group to conduct active business intelligence. The Group is exposed to the risk that public policies or regulations change to the detriment of the Group, for example potential changes to regulated tariffs in the distribution operations and potential changes of subsidy frameworks for renewable energy. • Regulatory risk: The Group is exposed to a risk of regulatory changes since its operations are governed by various political regulations and frameworks (e.g. climate and energy frameworks to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and achieve a sustainable, competitive and secure energy system). For example, the requirements of the Water Framework Directive (Directive 2000/60/EC) could result in losses in regulating capacity and hydro power generation. The Group's wind power operations are also exposed to regulatory risks in relation to tender processes and subsidy frameworks. • Investment risk: The Group is a highly capital-intensive business with an extensive investment programme. Investment risk refers to the risk of the Group not being able to find suitable investments or that the Group is unable to obtain the necessary financing for future investments on terms acceptable to the Group. The execution of investments also implies risks, for example, in terms of unexpected increased investment costs or that the return of investments are lower than estimated. • Integrity risk: The two greatest integrity risks the Group has identified are non-compliance with competition laws, and corruption. The size of the Group, with millions of customers and 25,000 suppliers, makes the Group exposed to integrity risk across a wide area. • Competition risk: The Group's operations are exposed to competition to various degrees. Competition in European renewable energy projects has intensified and the cost of renewable generation has reduced dramatically, leading to the first subsidy-free bids in auctions. Within decentralised solutions and new businesses, there is a growing number of niche players across

		the energy value chain, as well as companies from other sectors taking more space in the market, leading to increased competition.
D.3	Main risks associated with the securities	Risks related to the structure of the Capital Securities <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Capital Securities are subordinated obligations; accordingly, claims in respect of the Capital Securities would rank junior to claims in respect of unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer in the event of a voluntary or involuntary liquidation, bankruptcy or corporate reorganisation. • The Capital Securities are long-term securities and therefore an investment in Capital Securities constitutes a financial risk for a long period. • The Issuer may defer interest payments at its discretion. • The Issuer may redeem the Capital Securities early; investors should consider reinvestment risk. • There is a risk that, after the issue of the Capital Securities, an early redemption event may occur which would entitle the Issuer, without any requirement for the consent or approval of the holders, to substitute the relevant Capital Securities for, or vary the terms of the relevant Capital Securities so that they become or remain, securities that contain terms not materially less favourable to holders than the terms of the Capital Securities. • Capital Securities with fixed interest rate have a market risk. • Capital Securities with floating interest rate may suffer a decline in interest rate. • Holders of the Capital Securities have very limited rights in relation to the enforcement of payments on the Capital Securities. • No limitation on the Issuer on issuing or guaranteeing debt ranking senior to or pari passu with the Capital Securities. Risks related to Capital Securities generally <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Capital Securities may not be a suitable investment for all investors. The Capital Securities are complex financial instruments. Each potential investor in the Capital Securities must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. • The terms and conditions contain provisions which may permit their modification without the consent of all investors and confer significant discretions on The Law Debenture Trust Corporation p.l.c. as trustee which may be exercised without the consent of the holders and without regard to the individual interests of particular holders. • The Capital Securities may be subject to withholding taxes. • Investors who hold Capital Securities in denominations that are not an integral multiple of a specified denomination may be

		adversely affected if definitive Capital Securities are subsequently required to be issued. Risks related to the market generally <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An active secondary market in respect of the Capital Securities may never be established or may be illiquid and this would adversely affect the value at which an investor could sell his Capital Securities. • If an investor holds Capital Securities which are not denominated in the investor's home currency, he will be exposed to movements in exchange rates adversely affecting the value of his holding. In addition, the imposition of exchange controls in relation to any Capital Securities could result in an investor not receiving payments on those Capital Securities. • The list of registered and certified rating agencies published by the European Securities and Markets Authority on its website in accordance with the Regulation (EC) No 1060/2009 (as amended) is not conclusive evidence of the status of the relevant rating agency included in such list, as there may be delays between certain supervisory measures being taken against a relevant rating agency and the publication of the updated list. • Credit ratings assigned to the Issuer or any Capital Securities may not reflect all the risks associated with an investment in those Capital Securities and may be lowered or withdrawn. • The value of the Capital Securities could be adversely affected by a change in English law or Swedish law or administrative practice. • Hedging positions of dealers may adversely affect future trading prices of Capital Securities.

Section E – Offering

E.2b	Reasons and use of the issue proceeds	The net proceeds from each issue of Capital Securities have been applied by the Issuer for its general corporate purposes.
