

Town centre regeneration

Huntly Development Trust (HDT) have been redeveloping a major former department store at No 30, The Square, Huntly in Aberdeenshire. Pictured here during construction, it now includes a co-working space, a café and cinema for the community, with the building heated by air source heat pumps.

The Clashindarroch Wind Farm Community Fund has been hugely beneficial to the wider Huntly area. Being able to secure investment from a local fund controlled by local people helps draw in crucial support from funders further afield. Such investment is essential to deliver what our area needs to transition and prosper.
